

China, Russia, and the World

FOCUS ON AFRICA

April 24, 2015

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

IMU Oak Room

The successor to REEI's annual Roundtable on Postcommunism, "China, Russia, and the World" is a series of annual symposia that focus on the engagement (economic, cultural, political) of China and Russia with particular regions of the world. The inaugural symposium, "Focus on Africa" will address Chinese and Russian involvements with Africa, exploring the consequences of these involvements for the continent and its peoples and tracing the motivations that have shaped the nature of Russian-African and Chinese-African relations from the Cold War into the present.

Presenters

Padraig Carmody, Trinity College, Dublin

Maxim Matusevich, Seton Hall University

Tang Xiaoyang, Tsinghua University

Discussants

Gardner Bovingdon, Indiana University

Alex Lichtenstein, Indiana University

Moderators

Sarah Phillips, Indiana University

Heidi Ross, Indiana University

Co-Sponsors: East Asian Studies Center, Russian and East European Institute, African Studies Program

For more information: <http://www.indiana.edu/~reeiweb/newsEvents/FocusOnAfrica.shtml>

Persons with disabilities who wish to attend this event and would like to request assistance should contact the REEI office (812-855-7309 or reei@indiana.edu)